- I would like to do my Erasmus in Düsseldorf but my German is not very good. Which courses are held in English?
 - This is indicated in the class overview. Note that availability of English classes varies each year. Most classes are taught in German. We usually allow visiting foreign students who do not speak German to sign up for German-only classes and take exams, but they will have to study the course material by themselves. This typically involves reading English text books and articles. In this case, exams are usually oral and can be given in English on request.
- I am a student in the Bachelor program but there are also interesting classes in the Master program that I would like to attend. Is that possible?
 - Yes, this is often possible. Further, students of the Master program can also choose courses of the Bachelor program.
- What are the course components?
 - The course components are the module letters, such as “Module C”.

- I chose my courses and need a signature from the Erasmus Coordinator. To whom do I have to send the Learning Agreement?
 - Ideally, the Learning Agreement should be filled in the online system. Once it is signed by your institution, it will be sent to us automatically. The e-mail address is: erasmus-psycho@uni-duesseldorf.de
 - If you need a signature outside of the online system, the Learning Agreement can be sent as a scan via e-mail to: erasmus-psycho@uni-duesseldorf.de
 - Make sure that the Learning Agreement is signed by your institution before it is sent to us.
